

The Feud
"The Nightmare Next Door"
Synopsis

Bob and Lisa are raising Lisa's two girls on a quiet suburban street. They moved there from the big city so that Bob, a retired police officer, would have a less stressful environment to live in. Life has been great – but that's all been turned upside down by the arrival of new next door neighbours, Jeff and Kim.

Their once-friendly relationship is slowly eroding – and it's all because of rock 'n' roll. Jeff's band Prion rehearse in his basement. What started out as an occasional weeknight jam session has evolved into almost nightly practices lasting hours at a time. And it's driving Bob, Lisa and the girls crazy.

They admit they made a mistake by not speaking up when the band first began practicing their unique thrash metal, in the basement that is connected to their's, but now it's been months and neither Bob nor Lisa have the confidence to confront Jeff.

That's where Hilary Linton steps in. As a lawyer and experienced mediator, Hilary has helped hundreds of people resolve difficult and uncomfortable situations, while keeping them out of the courtroom.

Now she's designed challenges for these couples to help them see the other's point of view and bring peace back to the streets. If they succeed, Hilary has $5,000 to divide between them to help bring about a permanent solution to this neighbour nightmare.
